

AGED WOMAN EDITOR DEAD IN NEW PALTZ

Eliza Varick Silvernail, widow of the late Charles J. Ackert, died at her home at New Paltz at 4 o'clock this morning after a brief illness, aged 85 years.

Mrs. Ackert for many years was the owner, editor and proprietor of the New Paltz Times, which was established by her husband in June, 1860. Shortly after Mr. Ackert started the Times, the second call of President Lincoln came for volunteers and he responded, becoming a member of Company A, of the One Hundred and Fifty-sixth Regiment, in which he served from 1862 to 1864, when he was compelled to return to New Paltz on account of wounds. He had enlisted as a private but was promoted to corporal and sergeant and later for distinguished personal bravery he was made a second lieutenant.

During the time that Mr. Ackert was serving in the federal army, the Times was conducted by his wife. Upon his return home she continued to run the paper and he attributed his success in life in no small measure to the constant assistance she gave him. Much of Mr. Ackert's life was spent in public service, he having been appointed postmaster under President Cleveland and having served as town clerk for fifteen years, president of the village for two years, supervisor for four years and member of assembly for two years. Mr. Ackert was a consistent Democrat of the old school, and the Times during his life time and after his death reflected his views.

Mr. Ackert died June 1, 1900, and the management of the Times was taken over by Mrs. Ackert, who continued to run it until her death. She edited the paper personally, wrote much of the editorial matter and supervised it generally, besides attending personally to the business details. For some years while Mr. Ackert was alive and for some time after his death she also conducted a millinery establishment.

Mrs. Ackert, like her husband, was a native of Dutchess county. He was born at Hyde Park and she was a native of Poughkeepsie. Of their marriage there is one child, Isabella, wife of George L. Johnston of New Paltz, who survives her mother.

Mrs. Ackert was a woman of broad views, well educated, deeply interested in the welfare of her friends and of the community in which she resided. She was a woman of the highest character and her activity in New Paltz for many years brought her in contact with many people by whom she will be sincerely missed.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Saturday afternoon at 11:30 and from the New Paltz Reformed Church at 2 o'clock.

Hearing on Norton Bill.

A hearing will be held before Governor Whitman in the executive chamber at the capitol, Albany, tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock on the Norton bill, which was passed by the legislature providing for an additional justice of the supreme court in the Third judicial district. The Third district now has six justices, three of whom are engaged in trial work and three of whom are members of the appellate courts. Justice Emory A. Chase of Catskill is serving as a member of the court of appeals by appointment, and Justice Wesley G. Howard of Troy and Aaron V. S. Cochrane of Hudson are serving on the appellate division of the Third department. The justices engaged in the trial work are Judge Alden Chester and Judge William P. Radd of Albany and Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston. Neither Sullivan nor Schoharie county has a justice, and in the event of the bill becoming a law it is planned to have the new justice come from one of those counties.

FISH LOSES SLANDER SUIT

Court Adjourns. There Being No Further Cases Ready for Trial—Witnesses That Puzzled the Stenographers.

Any need for an additional justice in the Third Judicial District is not apparent in Ulster county as Judge Chester adjourned the May term at the court house this morning and excused the jurors following disposition of the few cases on the calendar Wednesday afternoon. A number of cases have been disposed of at this term but only five reached the jury. Verdicts of no cause for action being returned in three of these. A disagreement resulted in another and the only verdict returned was one of $549 for the Cornell Steamboat Company against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Ellenville, which supplied two of the three cases tried, was again in the limelight when court opened today, the jury in the case of Vol. R. Fish against Frank Dow handing up its sealed verdict. Judge Chester found the verdict to be for the defendant. He denied a formal motion to set aside the verdict by City Judge William D. Brinnier for the plaintiff and refused Attorney N. Frank O'Reilly for the defense any extra allowance.

Trial of the action, which was for $15,000 for alleged slander, continued the court and jurors at times, the testimony of many witnesses being equal to the best of Polish and Portmutter dialogue. Fish charged Dow with calling him a forger, and other names while Dow claimed Fish wrongfully cashed a check for $25 tendered for drinks one night in September, 1913, another check having been issued in its stead.

Dow, with his right leg off at the knee and his grizzled gray hair was a strong card in his own defense. He is styled "Doctor" because of his knowledge of witch hazel and other herbs whose extracts he once sold. Under a grilling cross-examination by Mayor Palmer Canfield, for the plaintiff, he admitted that he had never attempted any criminal prosecution of Fish.

"But you decided to take your medicine?" asked Attorney O'Reilly in rebuttal. The court would not let the witness answer so whether Dow took witch hazel or sassafras to draw his alleged loss is still a mystery. Dow himself admitted that he drank whiskey and knew better, which he asked the court and jurors, was not always the case when one was drinking whiskey.

Abram Jacobowitz, known as "Jackaboy" to Ellenville, was called by the defense in an attempt to show that the check in question was given by Dow to Fish to be cashed and that part of the proceeds went to pay Jacobowitz for meat. During this testimony, the defendant kept up a clucking noise with his tongue indicating astonishment at disclosures of the witness.

Jacobowitz proved a problem for Stenographer Murray and the court had to interrupt the flow of words so fast and broken was the current. The witness admitted that Dow had been "sober" on him because he had been for no license but that this had been adjusted and Dow came back to trade at the time noted.

The degree of drunkenness a man can reach were described by Harry Solomon, who next to Justice of the Peace Moses Wolf, rates himself as one of the best pinch players in the village. Solomon declared that two drinks made a man full, and more drinks made him so he "didn't know nothing." He had varying degrees of intoxication between these two extremes but the flow of his testimony was shut off by the rules of evidence.

Eloquent portrayals of the rights of man, freedom of speech and attacks on the credibility of witnesses featured the summing up by counsel for both sides. The court said it was plain that somebody was not telling the truth and said it was up to the jury to pass upon that point. The jury was out little more than an hour.

Whether Anthony Denier's suit to recover $17,000 from his wife, Louise A. Denier, alleged to have been loaned her in about 200 items, will be tried before a referee or a supreme court justice was left undecided by Judge Chester with the conclusion of the May term. The court was inclined to send the matter to a referee but Attorney W. H. Grogan, representing Denier, asserted that his client was without funds sufficient to pay the expenses of trial before a referee. Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., favored the reference because of the large number of items involved and the time required. Judge Chester finally left the matter to be threshed out before Judge Hasbrouck in special term. In the negligence action of Frank Roas against J. O. Winston and others Judge Clearwater was granted a dismissal with costs.

The building will have a frontage of 53 feet and will be 184 feet deep. It will be constructed of brick, three stories in height. Towers will be at each end, and there will be fireproof stairways. The floors and framing will be of heavy mill construction; all window sash will be of steel and the building will be modernly equipped throughout.

BRICKYARD STRIKE DOWN THE RIVER

The trouble which originated in the brickyards at Haverstraw has spread to the brickyards of lower Dutchess county with the result that of the five large yards to the south of Beacon, near that city and Dutchess Junction, only one was running on Wednesday. That is the Nicholson yard, which employs between 100 and 200 men. But this yard has not been running full force this year as yet. The men on the Hammond Brookway, Aldridge and Dugan yards went out Monday and have not returned to work. The trouble in the Dutchess county yards is the result of the strike of the brickmakers of Haverstraw, where the trouble which kept about 1,500 brickmakers idle all last year, were renewed at the beginning of this season. The men object to making what is styled a "big kiln," which contains some 2,000 bricks more than the other. They have been offered additional pay for the work, but decline to work on the "big kiln."

AUTOMOBILE COLLISION.

One Car Badly Crippled But Occupants Were Uninjured.

George C. Wolven's Franklin automobile, containing Mr. Wolven and his chauffeur, John Reedy, crashed in a Franklin car owned and driven by William Harp at the corner of St. James street and Broadway shortly after three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Harp car contained beside the owner, Dr. William Kemble and Frank Boice.

The car of Mr. Harp was coming along St. James street toward Broadway and was crossing that thoroughfare into East St. James street when it was struck by the Wolven car, which was coming up Broadway. The Wolven car was being driven by Mr. Reedy.

The Wolven car was traveling at high speed and struck Mr. Harp's car with force sufficient to send it on the sidewalk. The wind shield and headlight were broken, the mud guards were bent, the frame and steering lever were broken and the car was otherwise damaged. It was towed to the Eagle Garage. Mr. Wolven's car received damage to the springs and body but was able to proceed after the accident. None of the occupants of either car was hurt.

Wilbur Minstrels.

The minstrels at Wilbur Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week, were a decided success, socially, musically and financially. The end men in black face, Messrs. McLean, Scully, Carter and Reilly, caused peals of laughter by their witty, topical jokes. The soloists, choruses, the Wilbur sextet, the Rondout trio, Messrs. De Koskie, Gallagher and Vogel, were all in excellent voice and the musical numbers were well received. Miss McNamee deserves great credit for training the minstrel troupe in Wilbur to such perfection. This is the fourth performance under her direction. Supervisor George Schick made, as usual, an excellent interlocutor; calm, dignified and judicial. The net receipts will be close on $100. The Wilbur minstrels will be heard in Sawkill at St. Ann's Hall on Tuesday evening, next.

Around the Reservoir.

WILL CHAUTAUQUA COME NEXT YEAR?

City's Third Chautauqua Brought to Successful Close Wednesday—Efforts Made to Secure List of 120 Guarantors for Next Year's Chautauqua.

Kingston's third Chautauqua was brought to a successful close on Wednesday evening when Victor's Band and the famous blind players were the attraction. Victor's Band was played here before and the program rendered on closing day was fully equal to that of previous seasons. This year the soloist with the band is Miss Ethel Beutley, who has a beautiful soprano voice and handles it extremely well. An added feature to the band's program was the Venetian Troubadours in costume who sang a number of Italian folk songs assisted by Miss Beutley.

The blind players was a most unique attraction and presented a play entitled "The Kerry Courtship." They also sang and gave an interesting exhibition of the various occupations of the blind. The company numbered four girls and a young man, all of whom were totally blind.

At the close of the program next year's contract was passed among the audience to ascertain if there were any others present willing to become a member of the list of one hundred and twenty guarantors for next year. The scheme is somewhat different this year. In order to become a guarantor for next year you simply sign your name and are sent five tickets. The guarantor is then held responsible for these five tickets alone whether he sells them or not. With a list of 120 guarantors, each responsible for $10, the necessary $1,200 is secured for the Chautauqua.

It was announced from the platform that the contract still needed about fifty signers. Efforts were made today to secure the remainder.

Lower Telephone Rates.

Telephones installed in residences for short periods will pay less than the customary short-rates, under an offer filed by the Bell Telephone Company with the Public Service Commission of the Second District. Numerous complaints have been made against the existing short-term contracts, and it has been admitted by representatives of the Bell and Federal Telephone Companies that the present scale is unsatisfactory. In present schedules of the Bell Company the maximum charge for discontinuance of telephone service in less than a year ranges as high as $17, but under the suggested schedule the highest charge will be $5.50. The change, if it becomes operative, will be especially gratifying to telephone users who desire instruments installed in their summer homes.

NEEDLEWORK BY HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

At the recent inspection of the work of high school students in manual training and domestic science courses so much interest was manifested on the part of members of the board of trade that an exhibition of the handwork of the class in sewing and dressmaking is being staged at Van Wagenen's this week, a tastefully arranged window showing noteworthy example of skill in needlecraft.

Lingerie, summer gowns and school dresses are shown in a variety of patterns and with especially skillful needlework in evidence.

Take one and a fourth cupful of Graham flour and three-fourths of a cupful of bread flour sifted and well mixed together. Cook this until of the right consistency to serve and serve with cream and sugar.

Cough Syrup.—Take a tablespoonful of molasses and stir it thick with ground ginger. Make only a small amount at a time, and it will always be fresh. Take a teaspoonful, or as much as is needed.

If you burn soft coal in your grate, save all paper bags and use them filled in the wood basket, thus the coal is more convenient to handle. To replenish the fire just drop in a sack of coal.

Discard all enamelware that has begun to wear off, as the chipping of the bits, as sharp as glass, falling into the food, may cause serious trouble.

Homemade hard soap that you know is sweet and clean is easily made, costs but a few cents, and saves several dollars' worth of the purchased article. Put into a crock one can of lye, pour on it a quart of water. Let cool. Add a half cupful of borax in water to dissolve, mix together a half cupful each of ammonia and kerosene. Have five pounds of clean grease warmed in a granite pan, pour in the cold lye, then the ammonia and oil and the borax, stirring with a clean stick until all is well blended. Pour into a strong box and in 24 hours cut in bars.

When washing comforters do not wring them. Let them hang and drip from the line. Then before they are quite dry, whip with a beater to make them fluffy and light.

A teaspoonful of dry bran taken after each meal is a simple and helpful remedy in case of constipation.

Dark colored goods will not fade if soaked in salt and vinegar in the water.

In the farm home a fireless cooker is indispensable, at times when a large amount of cooking is done it will work overtime, night or day, without getting out of repair or using up fuel.

Popular Dissipation.

It is possible to dissipate without the aid of strong drink; a good many people eat that way.—Aitchison Globe.

SHE'S THERE BECAUSE SHE PERFORMS— THE 3400 r. p. m. CHALMERS

Most cars start alike. But very few finish alike. Therein comes a mighty difference.

Step on the little button 10 months after date and you'll readily note the inequality.

One is sluggish, "dead", without emotion, and responds to the touch with the speed of old-time oxen responding to the lash.

The other is alive, alert, ready; radiates desire to plunge ahead.

This is the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers kind. The other kind is the species known to the trade as "one-year" cars.

Chalmers makes a five-year car. There's many an old 1909 Chalmers 30 Blue Bird giving a good account of itself today. You'll find the everlasting pep there five years from the day you take your first turn at the wheel.

Largely because of the 3400 r. p. m. engine. Which delivers mighty power with easy effort.

It's mostly in the design. The pistons are aluminum, about two pounds lighter per piston; the reciprocating parts lighter, which eases up the thrust on the bearings.

Then the crank-shaft, which is very heavy, and balanced to the weight of a hair in a special Chalmers device, spins at the rate of 3400 revolutions per minute.

It means excellent reserve power. For at 10 miles an hour the engine is turning up only 500 r. p. m. while at 20 she is doing about 1000 r. p. m. So that at excessive road speed she has the punch to deliver when called upon.

16% of her power is used at 10 miles an hour. So that she has 60% to 84%—when a twisting, hilly road comes she d. when a sharp corner with a rugged grade comes in sight; when the man ahead is showing you too much dust.

You'll like the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers for one single little reason. She sure can perform.

Ask your dealer about Chalmers service inspection coupons, negotiable at all Chalmers dealers everywhere. This system is a most important consideration in buying your car.

Five-Passenger Touring Car, $1090 Detroit.
Three-Passenger Cabriolet, $1440 Detroit.
Two-Passenger Roadster, $1070 Detroit.

Color of Touring Car and Roadster—Oriford maroon or Meteor blue. Cabriolet—Oriford maroon, Valentine green or Meteor blue. Wheels—standard dark, primrose yellow, or red. Wire wheels optional on Roadster or Cabriolet at extra cost.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, May 11.—The 27th anniversary of the organization of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church will be observed by the local organization on Sunday evening next at 6:45 in the lecture room of the church. An interesting program has been arranged for the occasion and the leaders are to be George C. Rose, Earl Count and Ernest Van Gorder, young men members of the local league. There will also be special music.

There was a large audience present at the M. E. Church Tuesday evening to hear Hon. Frederick Landis speak. The opening song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," with Frank J. Campbell at the organ, was an inspiration as so heartily sung by the large audience. This was followed by prayer by Rev. Walter S. Maines, of the Reformed Church, and the stirring old hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers," followed, led by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Moser, who at its close introduced the speaker, who delivered a most excellent lecture upon the most timely subject of the day, "Great Dry America." The lecture received hearty applause. The meeting closed with singing the doxology and benediction by Dr. Moser.

Miss Harriet Bradford spent Saturday in New York and Sunday with Marlborough friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raymond have been with Mrs. Raymond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Terwilliger, for some days.

George Bennett of Port Jervis is spending a few days with his son, Denton Bennett, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eckert of New York have been spending some days in Ellenville prospecting, thinking to locate in business here.

Miss Hattie Brown spent Sunday with the Phiffer family in Poughkeepsie and on her return home was accompanied by Mrs. Phiffer, who is spending the week in town.

Mrs. C. D. Divine entertained the members of the Reformed Church Missionary Society at her home on Canal street Wednesday afternoon. The subject was "India." Mrs. A. T. Cookingham, president, had charge of the devotional exercises.

Mrs. John R. DeVany was in charge of the music. Mrs. J. R. Mowell, Mrs. Nial DePur and Mrs. J. K. Lathrop read interesting papers appropriate to the subject. Mrs. Divine gave a most excellent talk on the work of her friend, Mrs. Walter Scudder, M. D., who with her husband are missionaries in India. The ladies spent a very profitable afternoon together. There was a large attendance of the members.

SAWKILL

Sawkill, May 11.—One of the most delightful evenings ever spent at Sawkill was enjoyed by over fifty people on last Friday at the home of Louis Hulsair. All kinds of games were played during the evening, but the dancing, which was accompanied by first class music, was the top liner. After refreshments were served everyone departed for their several homes, declaring that Miss Mollie Hulsair is a charming entertainer.

Orren Bonesteel is putting a new wire fence around his premises. Frank Charlton and Sylvester Myers are busy ploughing.

Tessie Burns of Yonkers passed through this place on Tuesday.

The stork called on Morey Hill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brooks, and left a bouncing baby boy one day this week.

Miss Mabel Brink spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Etta Mae Bonesteel.

Lorin Smith spent Sunday at his home in Kingston.

The Misses Molly and Florence Hulsair left town on Tuesday for Haines Falls, where they are to be employed during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Charlton spent Monday in Kingston.

Miss Mabel Brink left for Haines Falls Tuesday, where she is to be employed this summer.

A minstrel show and dance is going to be held next Thursday evening at St. Ann's Hall.

A western man has had his reason restored by advertising. The inference is plain—those who don't advertise stay crazy.

MACHINE GUN DETACHMENTS IN MANOEUVRES ON BORDER.

© INTL. FILM SERVICE.

MORE INFANTRY AND NATIONAL GUARD OF THREE STATES CALLED OUT IN LATEST MEXICAN CRISIS.

President Wilson has ordered the National Guards of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona to mobilize for border duty, and practically all of the regular infantry has been called to the border for service in the Mexican campaign, as a result of developments in the Mexican situation during the past few days. Consular agents in Mexico have been ordered to send all American citizens out of the country and it is said that steps have been taken by the de facto government to prevent the entrance of more American troops into Mexico.

Can't Say No to a Woman!

A politician ascribed the progress of the suffrage movement to the fact that men could not say "NO" to a woman.

And few can, as most husbands will testify.

Advertisers realize that when they gain a woman's eye a sale is half made.

And that is one reason why manufacturers are turning to the newspapers with their advertising.

Women are newspaper readers, as any advertising storekeeper will verify.

CUTS OF MEAT.

It is Necessary to Know Muscle Structure.

DIFFERENT PARTS NAMED.

Some Expert Help For Young Housewives Who Have Not Yet Learned How to Cook Cheap Meats in the Most Nourishing, Tempting Way.

It would seem that the last word had been said on cheaper cuts of meat. But the increase in the high cost of living makes the meat problem still as tough (no pun) as ever.

What are the much maligned and equally much praised cuts called "cheaper"? To know this we must know the architecture of the animal in question. First, the most tender pieces are the less exposed parts of the animal. Whatever portions are subjected to muscular exercise (thus the joints are tougher because the muscles have been used more. This does not mean that there is not as much nourishment in tough muscles as in tender ones. The cheaper cuts have tougher fibers, and the whole problem is to prepare and soften the fibers and thus put them on a par with more tender parts. The muscles of the abdomen are also tender, but give a very coarse meat.

The structure of the muscle fiber must be studied in order to apply the best methods of cooking. Each fiber is like a thin section of orange, being surrounded with a firm tissue and containing juice within. If we cut the fiber across the juice will escape. If we heat the fiber in a high temperature we will harden it still more and prevent the escape of juices. If we cut it and cook it in water the juices again will escape. But if we pour scalding water or liquid on the fiber it will have much the same effect as heating it rapidly to a high point.

Now, the ideal in handling all cheaper cuts is first to harden the fiber either by pouring on boiling water or by heating it to a high degree in order to avoid the escape of the juices, and second, to cook it slowly so that the fiber will eventually be very soft. The juices dissolved and the flavor as much as possible retained. None of these meats should be covered at first with cold liquid or cooked slowly before the outside fiber is seared.

What are some of these cuts by name? Perhaps this partial list will give suggestions which your butcher can help you carry out.

Cheaper cuts of beef:

Rump.—Roasts, braising, a la mode, stewing.

Chuck ribs (1 and 2).—Roast, steak.

Chuck ribs (last 3).—Stewing, braising.

"Plate."—Soup, stew, rolled pieces.

Brisket.—Corned and pot roast.

"Skirt."—Steak, rolled, stew.

Plank Steak.—Rolled, stew, a la mode, soup.

Cross Ribs.—Pot roast.

Short Ribs.—Soup, stew, sliced cold.

Cheaper cuts of mutton:

Breast.—Stew, braising, soup.

Neck.—Soup, stew, meat for croquettes, etc.

Veal:

Breast.—Soup, stew, made dishes, roast.

A slow oven, which is also used in cooking other foods, can be used, or, above all, the "broiler," which cooks without heat. Here, too, the fireproof or earthenware dishes can be used to best advantage, for then the food may be cooked and served in the same dish.

Several Possible Meanings.

The Thinker—'I've got a letter from my son out West.' His friend—'What is Tom doing now?' The Thinker—'That's what I can't make out. He says he is engaged in the destruction of weeds. Now, that may mean he's smoking a good many cigars or that he is trying to induce some widow to make a second venture, or it may mean that he is doing farm work.'

A REAL BLIZZARD.

It Was the Worst Snowstorm New England Ever Experienced.

In February, 1717, occurred what is considered to have been the greatest snowstorm that ever visited this country—or perhaps any other. So deep was the fall that practically all through the New England states people were harried in their homes, and it was a considerable time before that section was opened up for traffic.

Accompanying this snow there were a terrific tempest and a very low temperature. It was not only in sections, but all over the north, and at many places it drifted to the extent that it may be said that "whole villages were snowed under."

The blizzard caused a very heavy damage to property and especially to live stock. Thousands of cattle perished throughout the country because their owners were unable to go to their assistance, and many remarkable instances were related of rescues. On one New England sheep farm it is said that 1,100 sheep, the property of one man, were found dead, and one flock of a hundred, on Fisher's island, were found buried sixteen feet in the snow. Two of them only were alive, they having subsisted on the wool of their companions for twenty-eight days after the storm.—Philadelphia Press.

TREES AS BAROMETERS.

Why It is a Sign of Rain When the Leaves Show Their Backs.

Persons who are close observers have frequently seen the trees when the foliage presents a much different appearance from that ordinarily seen. This is more noticeable in poplar and silver leaf trees.

The odd appearance is due to the fact that the backs of the leaves are turned up, showing the under sides, which are as a rule, a lighter color than the upper side. Some of the leaves are such a light green as to appear almost white when the backs show in the sunshine.

This behavior of the leaves is due to an unusually low barometric condition of the atmosphere, which causes the leaves to curl a little and flip up in the breeze to such an extent as to show their backs or under sides.

The low barometric condition produces local showers, and it is always safe to predict rainfall when the leaves are seen to have their backs up. Long before the white man came to America Indians knew of this sign and placed great reliance on it. Science also finds knowledge of it among savage tribes of Asia, Africa and the Pacific Islands.—New York American.

Lo's Business System.

Old settlers will tell you that the Indians broke the first ground for wheat growing purposes in the spring of 1881. The Indians got their first ideas of settling on land and establishing permanent homes from association with the cowboys. Members of the tribe, including Pacatello Tom, China Ere and Big Lipped Pete, broke some ground and seeded a few acres of wheat.

When the wheat was harvested and thrashed in primitive Indian fashion the growers began to market the grain. The native wheat king would deliver wheat to American Falls or elsewhere in the vicinity for 50 cents a bushel. If the customer went after the grain the price was $1 a bushel. When questioned as to the meaning of their singular business methods the Indians would invariably reply: "You come to my wickip, you heap want 'um. Me come to your wickip, maybe so you don't want 'um at all."—Farming Business.

England's Oldest Borough.

As Salisbury is well known as Sarum, so is England's oldest borough, Barnstaple, as Barin, which may have been the Roman name of the town. According to old memorials, "the old name of the town was Abertawe, because it stood toward the mouth of the Taw river." The Saxons changed it to Berenstaple. Barnstaple appears to have been represented in the Witenagemot or Anglo-Saxon parliament. Thus it is one of the oldest boroughs if not absolutely the oldest, in the kingdom. Its broadcloth manufacture, once an important industry, has now died out, but there are manufacturers of lace and gloves, large cabinet works, tanneries and potteries (Barum ware).—London Globe.

Study of Synonyms.

Little Duhie was asked by her teacher to define the word "whimsical." "It means 'odd,'" she replied. "And now," the teacher went on, "please write a sentence containing the word properly used."

Hesitatingly the little ten-year-old took up a pen and after a moment's pause wrote: "There are two kinds of numbers—whimsical and even."

POULTRY NOTES.

Here must not be allowed to become too fat before the breeding season.

When the gobbler becomes too fat infertile eggs result.

Don't forget to give your hens grit and charcoal.

A hen that is laying needs more food than an unproductive one, and you may possibly get the latter too fat to lay.

After the hen once gets started to laying, she must have feed enough to meet the demands of her body and a surplus for egg production.

PROFIT IN RAISING
GEESSE ON THE FARM

A California man who says he can sell geese for $1.50 each wishes to know the details of raising them, writes a correspondent of the Country Gentleman. He asks whether they must be mated in pairs, each pair penned separately and whether it is necessary to have a pond to insure proper mating and fertile eggs. He has a good grass range, therefore has the most essential factor, for he is remembered that the goose is a grazing animal and an abundant supply of grass in summer and succulent feed in winter not only insures thrifty, vigorous stock and eggs with stronger germs and higher fertility, but cheapens the feeding materially.

So far as I know, nowhere are geese raised in such large numbers on single farms as are ducks and chickens. In many of the states, especially in the west and in Canada, they are raised on stock and grain farms at very little cost, because after the goslings are a few days old they can get a large part of their feed by grazing.

Many a small farmer, especially if he has low, wet land, is in a position to net a tidy sum by raising and fattening geese at a minimum of expense and labor.

The old notion that geese are monogamous and paired for life is a myth. The randers will mate with two or three or even more geese. I have seen a goose which had lost her mate and refused to mate with another gander.

Geese should never be used as breeders until they are at least a year old. Geese will lay more eggs when five or six years old than when young, and the goslings will be stronger. Geese can be used for breeders until they are twenty-five years old, and sometimes older. For market purposes alone the best plan is to mate two or three Toulouse geese to an Embden gander. The result of this cross will be stock that is easily raised, mature more quickly, grow to be larger and will fatten more quickly than any one variety. This mixed progeny should never be used for breeders, because they do not give good results. The geese pictured are of the Toulouse breed.

but I know that this is not true of all. I believe the wild goose and probably some of its crosses is an exception. Unless there is wide range it is better to have the ganders penned separately, each with his own harem, as they fight viciously, especially in the mating season.

I raised geese successfully for several years with water for drinking purposes only, so I know the belief that they must have a pond or stream while mating to insure fertile eggs is not well founded. Still I believe it is better for the breeding stock of all water fowl to have water to swim in. It certainly is more natural.

Not only are geese more cheaply and easily fed than other poultry, but they have several other advantages in their favor. They require little in the way of buildings. A low, cheap shed to shelter them from severe storms and to provide a nesting place is sufficient. They suffer little from disease. They require less care and attention than other poultry. The breeding stock does not require renewing so often.

In raising geese, however, it is advisable to confine the goose and her brood until the goslings are a few weeks old. Geese are great foragers, and the old geese will tire and wear out her brood unless they are allowed to first gain size and strength before being turned out to pasture.

UNPOPULARITY IS BIG BUSINESS GETTER

Frequently unpopularity pays good dividends. John J. McGraw was at one time cordially loathed in Chicago and Pittsburgh. It is possible that he is not beloved in either center of civilization now. He is, however, more popular than he once was, and consequently the Giants no longer do the business in those cities they did before he began to lose his unpopularity.

Frank Leroy Chance was as unpopular in New York as John J. McGraw was in Chicago, yet no team ever did the business at the Polo grounds that the Cub outfit did when it was led by the Peerless Leader, and when it was taken around the country by Secretary Charles C. Williams.

There may be a reopening of the old spirit of hostility in Chicago toward McGraw and in New York toward Tinker this year. Should the old popular prejudices against these men be revived, an increase in the gate receipts may be expected.

REFUSES TO BE COUNTED OUT

Eddie Plank scoffs at idea he is through—Expects to stick in game five years more.

Eddie Plank, old-time nemesis of the Tigers, refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea he won't amount to much this season, and confounds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching until he is forty-five years old. Here is what he had to say: "I've never had a sore arm, and when I quit the game it will be because I am tired of it. I'm forty-five years old, and I've pitched for five years more. At forty-five, then, I think I'll be prepared to stay at home. Pitching is a job. It must be studied by the pitcher. He must study the other fellow, the batter, and then give him what he knows he cannot hit. That's the way I have pitched for 15 years. The fellow with the fast ball will last longer than the one with the curve. I'll pitch five fast ones to a single curve or slow ball. But the winning pitcher must have the combination. He must mix 'em in the batter. Control is the biggest point."

BASEBALL NOTES

Manager Danny Shay has released catcher Pat Collins to Beaumont of the Texas league.

Catcher George Roetzle, turned back by Nashville to Quincy, has been traded to the Duluth club by Quincy for infielder R. J. Baker.

The price of baseballs is going up. Hereafter a fan can't afford to return a fouled-off ball for less than two tickets to the next game.

The veteran catcher, Harry Bemis, recently released by Elmira of the New York State league, has signed with Utica of the same league.

Herman Bronkie, once with Cleveland, then manager of the Toledo team and for two years with Indianapolis, announces that he has quit baseball.

Jack Compton, former manager of the Dayton Central league team, has signed with the New York Giants and expects to win a place on the pitching staff.

The pitching "Babe" Adams continues to break in. The Wheeling club of the Central league announces the signing of one. He hails from Laporte, Ind.

St. Louis, as First Choice, Brings $725, With Boston at $850—New York Rank Third.

In a club baseball pool, auctioned off at a dinner in St. Louis, a few nights ago, the Red Sox were second choice. The St. Louis Browns sold at first choice and were knocked down to President Phil Ball for $725. The Red Sox, designated as second choice and sold as such, brought a bigger price, because of the spirited bidding, and finally were acquired by Judge George Williams, an ardent fan, and until recently the attorney of the St. Louis American League club. Judge Williams paid $850 for this selection. Then, in order, came the New Yorks, White Sox, Tigers and Washington, while the Athletics and Indians were coupled as the field.

St. Louis Cardinals Fortunate in Picking Up Catchers—Tony Brotemm Is Latest Youngster Picked Up.

For some reason, the Cardinals have been one of the most fortunate teams in the country in picking up catchers. This year Manager Huggins has another fine backstop prospect in Tony Brotemm, unless the early signs fail. Brotemm is a big, rangy boy, with a good arm and clean action in getting rid of the ball.

CONTRASTS IN MEXICO.

A Land Where Extremes Meet Even in its Weather Conditions.

Mexico is the land of contrasts, of great riches and extreme poverty, a few of its people massing millions, while myriads are starving; a place where the most modern machinery may be found in operation at the very side of the most primitive method of accomplishing the same end, where beautiful architecture is in contrast with adobe huts and where shining automobiles of the latest design whirl past sleepy ox teams hauling carts with solid wooden slabs for wheels identical with the design which was used at the time of the Spanish conquest.

Passing down a prominent street in almost any of the large Mexican cities there may be seen fashionably dressed gentlemen who look very much as though they were just as much at home on Fifth avenue. Following Eliseos or Fifth avenue. Following or preceding them, however, will be a sanded peon clad in linen trousers and a blouse, with his 'serape' thrown over his shoulder and his head protected by a wide brimmed sombrero and his entire worldly possessions upon his back.

In the next block one may meet an Indian woman, barefoot and with uncovered head, a child slung in the "rebozo" over her shoulder. About her there is a suggestion of garlic, onions and pulque, while passing along the same street, comfortably ensconced in her victoria, dressed in a latest Parisian creation, rolls mildly, also of the same nation.

A gorgeously appointed funeral car bearing the remains of one whose family can afford this expense may arrive at the burial place simultaneously with three or four peons, packing on their shoulders the body of a comrade in a plainly painted coffin, the use of which is rented and which will be returned after the body is given interment.

One story and possibly single room adobe houses plastered in colors of large structures of elaborate architecture, and the poor peon passing along to his humble abode may catch a glimpse through a spacious doorway of a beautiful patio adorned with flowers and fountains. Later when he sits down to his tortillas and frijoles his next door neighbor is probably being served with the richest vanda and the rarest wines.

Back in the country districts the whirr of a sewing machine may be heard coming from a cuneo or a mud hut, while the head of the house may be seen scratching the ground with a crude plow of essentially the same design as those used in Mesopotamia in the time of Nebuchadnezzar or, thrashing his grain by driving animals over it.

The climate, too, has its extremes, and in the highlands the nights are cold, while the sunny side of the street at noon is too warm for comfort. The lowlands have days of intense torrid heat, preceding others when a strong "norther" chills to the bone. Months of drought, during which little if any rain falls, are succeeded by intervals when rain may be expected for a part of every day. Of such contrasts is Mexico, once called the "treasure house of the world."—Geographic Society Bulletin.

HE WANTED A BATH

And, Curiously Enough, That Fact Won Him a Lot of Fame.

QUEER TALE OF A LONDON INN

The Commotion a Traveler Fresh From Australia Kicked Up in the Blue Boat Tavern by a Simple Request That Made Him an Object of Wonder.

I cherish the thought, says the author of the autobiography entitled "The Record of Nicholas Freydon," that I have become something of a tradition at the Blue Boat Inn, in London, where I have reason to think I am remembered today by a now aged Boots and others—many, many others—as "the genium as ordered a bath."

I happened on the Blue Boat, a new arrival from Australia, and stayed there for two nights. On rising after my first sleepless night I went prowling all about the house in search of the bathroom. Finally I was routed back to my room by a newly awakened maid (in curl pins), who told me rather curtly that I could not have a "bath" unless I ordered it "before-hand." I was in a hurry to get outdoors, so I did without my bath and promised myself I would see to it later in the day.

That afternoon, footsore, tired and feeling inexplicably grumpy, I interviewed the lady again and begged permission to have a bath. She was then in much brighter humor and in curls in place of pins. She promised to arrange the matter shortly and to send some one to warn me when the moment had arrived. Where could I be found?

"Oh, I'll go and undress at once," I said.

"No, don't do that, sir; I can't get a bath all in a minute," she told me. "Perhaps you'd like to write in the smoking room."

I agreed at once and retired to the flydown smoking room, where there was an ample choice of distraction for a willing man between a motheaten volume entitled "King's Concordance" and a Southeastern-railway time table cover, very solidly fastened, but with nothing inside. Presently Boots came in, elderly and sad, but furtively held both in the way he held his head on one side and in the jerky quickness of his movements.

"You the genium as ordered er bath?" he asked anxiously. I admitted it, and he gave a long sigh of relief.

"Oo! All right," he said, almost gladly. "I'll letcher know when it's ready."

And he hepped out. I yawned, opened the concordance and shut it again hastily, by reason of the extraordinary pungent mustiness its pages emitted. Then I went prospecting into the passage between the stairs and the private bar. Here I passed a sort of ticket office window, at which a middle aged lady sat, eating waffles from a plate with the aid of a hairpin. Her face lighted up with sudden interest as she saw me.

"Oo!" she cried with spirit. "Er can the genium as ordered er bath?"

Again I pleaded guilty, and with a broad, reassuring smile, as of one who should say, "Bless you, we've had visitors just as mad as you before this," she nodded her ringleted head and said: "Iticht you are, sir. I'll send Boots to letcher know when it's ready."

Apart from consideration of her occupation, which demanded privacy, I could not stand gazing at this lady, and so I passed on to my only refuge from the concordance room—the private bar. There was a really splendid young lady in attendance here, who smiled upon me so sweetly that I felt constrained to order a lemon squash. While I pondered, with one hand on the counter, the still smiling barmaid opened conversation brightly.

"Er you the genium what's ordered er bath?" she asked engagingly.

I began to feel that there must be some kind of London joke about this formula. Perhaps it is a phrase in the current comic opera. I thought, as I hung indifferently waiting I heard a voice in the passage outside and recognized it as belonging to that elderly bird, Boots.

"No! I ain't a-wastin' uv me time," it said. "I'm a-lookin' fer some one. I s'pose you ain't seed the genium as ordered er bath anywhere abart, 'ave yer?"

Fearful lest further delay should lead to the bricking up of the bathroom or to a crier's being sent round the town for the "genium" and so forth; I hastened out almost into the arms of the retainer and forcibly checked him as he began on an interrogative note to cheer out, "You the genium as ordud er—"

Coming from a country where, even in the poorest workman's house, the bathroom at all events is always in commission, I was especially struck by this incident, more especially when an hour later I heard the chambermaid cry out over the banisters:

"Mibel! The genium as ordud er bath sez 'ell 'ave a chop wir 'is tea!"

A Survival.

Gribbs—Humanity has improved wonderfully in the last 2,000 years. For example, we have no such person nowadays as the "professional gladiator."

"Oh, I don't know. There's the professional chauffeur."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Polite, but Firm.

Mrs. N. was giving instructions to her new servant: "Before removing the soup plates, Mary, always ask each person if he or she would like any more."

"Very good, madame."

Next day Mary, respectfully bowing to one of the guests, inquired: "Would the gentleman like some more soup?"

"Yes, please."

Sour Milk.

Many people throw sour milk away. Wise ones utilize it. By draining off the water the curd remains as a solid. Put a cupful of curd in a cheesecloth and twist the loose ends together and hang it where it will drain overnight. In the morning place it in a dish and shake it with a fork and salt. Give it to the children and tell them it is the same thing that Miss Muffet was eating when along came the spider.—New York World.

His Mistake.

"How did you lose your last job?"
"I was fired for making a mistake."
"That seems unfair. We are all liable to make mistakes."
"Yes, but I told the boss that he couldn't get along without me."—Detroit Free Press.

—with Powerplus Motor!

POWERPLUS—a motor that sets an entirely new standard of motorcycle efficiency ideals!

Think of a street motor doing 70 miles an hour any time without preparatory tinkering!

That develops 15 to 18 h. p. an hour, per dynamometer test;

That picks up from standstill to 60 miles an hour in 30 seconds;

That is quiet, accessible, oiltight, clean;

That operates at lowest upkeep cost.

Think of these big advantages all embodied in one motorcycle motor.

Then see the 1916 Indian at our showrooms and learn why it's far and away the BEST motorcycle.

KILLED BY TRAIN AT NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, May 11.—Andrew Drake, 20 years old, of this village was killed about midnight Tuesday by a railroad train. The young man had not returned home the night before and the father, William Drake, went to the Lowe brickyard to find out whether his son was working or not. About half way from the Drake residence and the Rock Cut the father stumbled across the body of his son which had been cut to pieces by a train. The young man besides his parents is survived by three brothers, Peter, William and Oscar, and four sisters. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The automobile of Mrs. Sarah Drake struck the bicycle ridden by Lester Crans hurrying Crans from the machine. Fortunately Crans's injuries were slight.

V. T. Puse has finished the concrete work on the bridge near the Lowe brickyard.

The Lowe brickyard is putting out about 15,000 bricks daily, and are in need of several men to work on the yard.

"Resolved, that the members of the board of supervisors of Ulster county feel deep sorrow and regret at the untimely death of the Honorable Aaron Wesley Thompson, which occurred since the last meeting of this board, and in adopting this resolution, they fully appreciate the worth of his many and valued services, not only to the county of Ulster, but also to the city of Kingston, and they deeply deplore his loss."

COUNTESS MARIA LABIA.

TITLED OPERA SINGER, WHO CHARMED KAISER, ARRESTED AS A SPY.

Milan, May 11.—Countess Maria Labia, noted opera singer, is under arrest today on a charge of espionage made by Italian authorities. She is a member of one of the oldest families in Venice.

Countess Labia made her operatic debut in Germany twelve years ago under the auspices and protection of the Kaiser, whose admiration of her created a sensation in Italy. Until the war began she frequently sang in the Komische Opera in Berlin, where she was patronized by the Crown Prince, who seemed to have supplanted his royal father in her affections.

Countess Labia sang in the Manhattan Opera House, New York, in the fall and winter of 1908, under the management of Oscar Hammerstein. Her dark Italian beauty and excellent voice made her a favorite, but a quarrel with Hammerstein caused her to refuse to return.

She was then twenty-three years old, and she declared that her sole ambition was to be a singer as long as she lived—that her only loves were her voice and her birthplace, Venice.

Origin of the Penny.

The "maiden name" of the penny was "denarius," and the English penny is a survival of the Roman rule in the British Isles. Like the coin which preceded it in Rome, it has been debased in value until its name has lost its original meaning. The first denarius was minted in Rome about 208 B. C. and was the principal silver coin of both the republic and the empire. It at first weighed seventy-two grains and was as nearly pure silver as durability would permit. It bore on one side the helmeted head of Roma and the mark X and on the other side the images of Castor and Pollux. Later these twin gods were replaced by the head of the Roman emperors. By 215 A. D. the coin had deteriorated in value until it was only 40 per cent silver. The X, which signified the value of ten asses, had wholly lost its meaning. Diocletian finished the degradation of the denarius by applying the name to a small copper coin. In England the largest silver coin was called a denarius at a time when the English florin was called a gold penny.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Edison and His Mother.

During the short time that he attended school Thomas A. Edison was nearly always at the foot of his class. On one occasion a teacher remarked to the inspector that the boy was "addled" and that trying to tutor him was a mere waste of time.

The youth overheard the remark. He repeated it to his mother, who promptly took the child back to the school and told the teacher he did not know what he was talking about and that the lad had more brains than the teacher.

Referring to this critical period of his existence, Mr. Edison once said: "Had it not been for my mother's appreciation and faith in me I should very likely never have been an inventor. She was so true, so sure of me, that I felt that I had some one to live for, some one I must not disappoint. The memory of her will always be a blessing to me."—Columbus Dispatch.

Proof That We Are Sheepish.

The Pittsburgh man who several years ago won a dinner from an Indiana county relative by taking a small piece of wood, a hammer and a nail and blocked traffic on lower Fifth avenue of the steel metropolis by hammering the nail into the shingle resting on the sidewalk has a follower here who did a similar stunt. The New Yorker won his wager by placing a ball of paper six inches in diameter at the corner of Wall street and Broadway and by starting at it got a crowd of a hundred people in five minutes. It proved the old contention of the psychology of crowds; showed that all the folks are not living in the country and are not sheep.—New York Letter to Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Flies Have Killed More People Than The World's Armies

ACCORDING to an eminent authority flies have been responsible for the death of more human beings than all the armies of the world. Flies are nature's champion spreaders of disease. If you were to examine a fly's legs through a sufficiently powerful microscope you would see a good deal of decayed animal and vegetable matter and millions of ugly wriggling things, more repulsive looking than the worst nightmare monsters.

They are disease germs which the fly has picked up in the course of its travels. Diphtheria, enteric, typhoid and scarlet fever, influenza and many other diseases are doubtless resting on the legs of the fly.

Every time he alights on your head he leaves a few germs. Presently he will crawl over your food and leave some more germs for you to eat. Perhaps he will drown himself in your milk jug. That will suit the germs, because they breed quicker in milk than in any other medium.

If you are in good health you may not come to much harm.

It is to children that flies are most dangerous. Whenever there is an extra number of flies the infantile mortality always becomes abnormal.

One of the reasons why there is less infantile disease, comparatively speaking, in the large towns than in the country is because there are fewer flies. The pigsties, cow sheds, stables, refuse heaps and fertilizer piles of the country breed 90 per cent of the flies.

It is never too late to start. Keep your rooms clean, cool and dry. Keep all food in a cool, dark pantry, and place covers over it if necessary. See that the lids of your garbage cans are always on tight, and do not allow rubbish to collect in your garden.

And whenever you see a fly kill it. Remember that every fly is your enemy.

Philadelphia and Carpets.

More than a third of all American carpets are woven in Philadelphia, which, it is claimed, leads any other city of the world in the volume of production. Wilton, in England, has given its name to one of the most widely known and useful rugs in the world, but now the Wilton rug producing center of the world is in Philadelphia. Axminster, too, gave its name to a carpet, but it long ago ceased to produce any of it. Brussels likewise is known all over the earth for its carpet, but Brussels does not begin to produce the carpets and rugs which are turned out in Philadelphia. Philadelphia entered the carpet business when Washington was president of the United States, but it was not until more than half a century later that Pennsylvania led all the states in carpet production. As early as 1701 there was a factory in Philadelphia engaged in the manufacture of Axminster and Turkey carpets. China and Russia send to Philadelphia most of the long, coarse wool used in the manufacture of the finest Wiltons.—Argonaut.

Getting Up in the Morning.

The truth is that there is no time at which it is pleasing to get up. Getting up in the world is a pleasure, but we refer to getting up from anything between a fifty cent cot and a forty dollar mattress after having tried to indulge, to a point of satiety, a normal appetite for sleep.

To get up willingly is, as Lord Dunsyre would say, "something no fellow can do." It simply isn't done and can't be done. Absolutely nobody does it.

Early rising is with some persons a sort of religion, like flagellation. But they, like the rest of us, unless they are afflicted with a loss of the normal capacity for sleep, find the moment of rising painful, however compensating the pleasure of boasting their early rising, the joy of bullying and the belittling persons who frankly do not like at any time to get up, although they do it heroically every morning.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Flag of Denmark.

In the year 1219 King Waldemar of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the Livonians, saw, or thought he saw, a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog—that is, the strength of Denmark. Aside from legend, there is no doubt that this flag with the cross was adopted by Denmark in the thirteenth century and that at about the same date an order, known as the order of Dannebrog, was instituted, to which only soldiers and sailors who were distinguished for courage were allowed to belong. The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner bearing on it a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. For 300 years both Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag.

The Gogonochon.

The Gogonochon is the name given to one of the most inexplicable objects known to astronomers. It is visible in the night sky under favorable conditions. It is rounded in outline and is situated always exactly opposite the place of the sun. It has been termed by one eminent astronomer "a sort of comet or meteoric satellite" attending the earth. He supposed it to be composed of a cloud of meteors situated about a million miles from the earth and revolving around it in a period of just one year, so that the sun and the meteors are always on opposite sides of the earth. It is estimated that the size of this ghostly satellite may be nearly the same as that of the planet Jupiter—i. e. about 36,000 miles in diameter.

THE STOCKMAN.

Carelessness in care of feed will cause a loss in the wool as well as the loss in a poor, sickly lamb.

The cause of unthrifty pigs can often be traced to a filthy swill barrel.

Give the colts plenty of exercise during cold weather and it will repay you for kindness by steady growth.

Between hay and grass is a trying time for the sheep flock.

Teach the pigs to eat as soon as possible while they are suckling their dams.

A colt that is well summered and grain fed before being weaned in the fall suffers little setback when it is weaned.

Piano Pupils Play Well. The pupils of the artists' class in the piano-forte department of the Kingston Conservatory of Music, Mrs. J. Irving Wood of New York, head of the department, gave a most creditable recital of Symphony Hall on Wednesday afternoon. They were assisted by Jacob Mollitt, violinist. The program opened with a Suite for two pianos, "Minuet and Gavotte," by Arensky, played by Thomas W. Crosby at the first piano and Miss Katharine M. Quest at the second piano. The Gavotte was admirably played, the ensemble being good as well as the phrasing and shading, while the first movement was given with a more clean cut rhythm. Theodore L. Riccobono had assigned to him the difficult task of playing the Schyetz and Spring Brunes—lullaby. A modern work rather impressionistic in character, and he played it very well indeed. Thomas W. Crosby played for his first number the Mendelssohn "Scherzo in B Minor," and for his second number Mac Dowell's "Witches' Dance," in which he did some really artistic work both technically and from an interpretive viewpoint. One of the shorter of the "Momena Musicales" by Schubert was given by Miss Katharine M. Quest and was followed by the Chopin "Impromptu, Op. 29," wherein the musician showed considerable progress in musicianship and technique since her appearance at the last recital. To one realizing the difficulties of overcoming the usual piano-forte playing of accompaniment to other instruments, with real artistic work, the year's progress made by Harry Malsenholder was most gratifying. He played the Mac Dowell "Shadow Dance" with a delicacy and grace as well as poetic interpretation that was excellent. His next number, a fine example of "program" music, and pleasingly described by Mrs. Wood, was "Grieg's 'Norwegian Bridal Procession,'" and here Mr. Malsenholder more than surprised his audience with his gain in technique and interpretation. Mr. Malsenholder should continue to strive for achievement as an artist first, while not losing his ability as an accompanist. Miss Esther Mollitt made her first appearance at these recitals yesterday, playing the Chopin "Nocturne in G Major, Op. 27, No. 2." It was an ambitious undertaking, and Miss Mollitt showed marked musical ability, producing an especially deep full tone, especially in the harmonic work. At this recital each number with the exception of the two-piano selections was played without notes, and not a single lapse of memory marred any one of the performances, which was another mark of progress. The program was brought to a close with a "cello solo, 'Lamento' by Gabriel-Marie, played by Jacob Mollitt, with Mr. Malsenholder at the piano. There is no doubt that Mr. Mollitt is an artist when he comes to the 'cello and the 'Lamento,' a beautiful work, particularly enjoyable and enthusiastically endorsed by Mr. Mollitt, responded with a Beethoven 'Minuet,' which is always a favorite. Certainly the Kingston Conservatory is accomplishing much for the progress of music in the community, and they are fortunate in having Mrs. Wood at the head of the department.

Would Go to Mountains. A bank individual proffered pencils to 11th ward residents Wednesday claiming that the proceeds were to be given to the mountains where he hoped to cure his aggravated case of tuberculosis. He was directed to the Bureau of Social Service but continued to dispose of pencils, evidently finding it a profitable game.

How to Dry Your New Umbrella and So Make It Last. When you come in from the rain put the umbrella in the rack with the handle downward, because when the handle is upward the water runs down inside to the place where the ribs are joined to the handle and cannot get out, but stays, rotting the cloth and rusting the metal until slowly dried away. The wire fastening the ribs soon rusts and breaks. If placed the other end up the water readily runs off and the umbrella dries almost immediately.

How to Test an Oven Before You Burn Your Cake. Test your oven before putting in the cake by throwing on the bottom a spoonful of dry flour. If the flour takes fire or quickly turns dark brown color the oven's temperature is too high, and you should allow the oven to cool a little. If the flour remains white after it has been there a few moments the temperature is too low. If the oven is of the proper heat the flour will slightly brown and look a little scorched.

How to Make Delicious Fruit Cocktails For Company. A delicious first course for the spring luncheon or midday Sunday dinner is fruit cocktail, served ice cold in dainty glasses. Use the fruits of the season—apples, oranges, bananas, grapes, and perhaps a little chopped pineapple. Skin the grapes, pare the apples and cut the oranges in very thin slices through pulp and rind. Then chop all the fruit in small pieces and soak an hour in their own juice sweetened with sugar. Then stand on the fire until just before serving, when the fruit cocktail may be flavored with a little Rhine wine or claret.

HOW TO MAKE A BIRTHDAY CAKE THAT IS REAL CAKE.—Weigh seven large eggs (fresh), take their weight in dried flour and a little more than half their weight in sifted sugar. Break the eggs, separate the yolks from the whites. Beat the former in a bowl, add the sugar to them very gradually, together with a little grated lemon rind, a spoonful of orange flower or rosewater or any other suitable flavoring. Add the flour a little at a time and continue to beat the mixture for twenty minutes. Butter a mold, sprinkle powdered sugar upon the butter and shake off all that will not adhere. Tie a strip of buttered paper round the top of the mold to keep the preparation from rolling down the sides, while it is baked. Pour in the cake, three parts; fill the mold with it. When done enough let it stand a few minutes, shake it well to loosen it, turn it out carefully, cut it in slices when cool, one-quarter of an inch thick, spread some jam over these and place five or six or more slices together, one on top of the other. Whisk together the whites of two or more eggs, according to size of cake; add half a pound of finely sifted sugar to the eggs, a dessertspoonful of orange flower water. Whisk the mixture until quite smooth and spread it over the cake with the back of a spoon. Mark the shape of the pieces into which it is afterward to be cut. Place the cake in a very cool oven to dry the icing. Time, half an hour to prepare. Two or three drops of coloring will give it a rose tint. Send to table with lighted candles.

FOR THE BRIDE'S CHEST.

How to Finish Your Bed Linen Attractively and Durably.

Scalloping is a finish for sheets and pillowcases is one of the nicest ways of finishing them. Of course the scallops need to be well padded, and this can be accomplished either by filling in between the marked lines of the scallops with rows of running stitches before applying the buttonholing.

The work can also be given more stability if after the scallops are completed and cut out an extra and tiny buttonhole edge is added to the extreme length of the scallops.

A baby's pillow cover can be simply made as follows: Sew together as for a pillow slip three-fourths of a yard of eighteen inch cambric embroidery of fine quality. Run blue or pink ribbon through small eyelets in scallops, thereby closing the cover. Run ribbon of suitable width through the larger eyelets, forming a bow of the ends on top.

CARE OF YOUR MACHINE.

How to Oil Your Sewing Machine and Save Nerves.

Sewing is not one-half as hard as some people find it if the sewing machine is kept in good order. When the machine works hard and heavy take the needle and shuttle out and give every joint and bearing a generous bath of gasoline.

Of course there should not be a lighted lamp or fire of any kind in the room, and the windows should be open. Turn the wheels briskly for a few moments, to enable the gasoline to penetrate to every part and to loosen and wash away all dirt and grit; then clean it all away.

When all the oil and grime have been removed oil with proper lubricating oil, running the machine for two or three minutes before inserting the needle. Now with a piece of cambric skin wipe away all superfluous oil.

THE TALE OF A BOBCAT

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Friends and neighbors," began old Joe Grinn as he took a seat on a cracker barrel at the crossroads store. "You all know that to five years ago I lived over in Joe Davis county. I had a squat over there by the big Blue Gum swamp. That was forty acres of land in the squat, and it was mighty pore land. It was all I could do to raise nuff co'n and taters fur me and the ole woman. If it hadn't been that the Blue Gum was full of varmints that I could trap in the winter and sell 'em fur I reckon we should have starved out."

"One winter, for some reason or other, most of the varmints left the swamp, and it was mighty poor trap-pin'. I got just enough fur to keep 'em goin', and as a consequence when spring and summer come along we was powerful hard up and like to go hungry in another month."

"One night arter the ole woman had given me three or four bins about laziness we went to bed feelin' that Providence was to blame for it all. Along about midnight she nudged me awake and said:

"Joe, I have got a bright idea. It's fur you to go in the swamp tomorrow and set a deadfall to catch a bobcat. If you kin ketch a big bobcat maybe you kin sell him at Mud Flats or the Bend to some one fur a pet. He orter bring at least $5."

"It was worth thinkin' about," said Joe, "and next day I reckoned it might pay to try it. I went out and set a deadfall, and while I was doin' it a bobcat's big bobcat ran up a tree close beside me and gin a screech that riz my hair up."

"That night about 12 o'clock we was awake by the dumbest screamin' and screechin' that a man ever heard of. It come from a bobcat who had meddled with that deadfall."

"We got her cased, and next mornin' I set out for the town of Mud Flats. I went that kase that was two or three rich men in the place who might buy the cat and kase that was to be leeshun that that day."

"Eight miles below Mud Flats was Walnut Bend, a town of about 1,500 people, without any mud in front of it. The Benders wanted the county seat moved over there, and after a lot of hard feelin' about it it was agreed to hold a leeshun. It was to be held in Mud Flats, and that is what bring about 250 Benders over that the day I drove in with the cat. I hadn't driv inter the town yet when I met old Jim Dabry in the road. Arter he had nodded to me and took a look at the cage he says:

"What ye got that, Joe?"

"A big bobcat, I sars."

"What ye goin' to do with him?"

"Sell him if I kin."

"Ole Jim steps aroun' to the back of the wagon and peeks in and the cat gives a scream and spits in his face. With that, ole Jim backs up and walks the road to the town. When he comes back to me he says:

"Joe, these Mud Flatners are a tricky lot. They have formed in line in front of the polls and are goin' to vote so slow that us Benders won't stand no show to git the county seat. I wonders—"

"What ye wonderin' about, Jim?" says I.

"I think we might make use of that cat—I think so. If he was turned loose down by the votin' place what would he do?"

"Why, he would bite and claw until you could smell sulphur."

"I reckon he would, Joe. What I want from him is to drive these Flatlanders away from the poles and gin my maw a chance to hold the land. If you think he kin do this there is $10 in it fur you."

"I want jest four times that, Jim," says I, seein' my advantage.

"Jim sticks fur awhile, strokin' his red chin whiskers, and he finally cums to my terms. He tells me what to do as he passes up the money and starts back to the town and gives his men the wink, and they all draws off to an old barn farther down the street. Then I drives in and stand up in my wagon and shouts out that I have a big bobcat for sale. The street was full of men, but no one minds me. I shouts out that I will take $5 fur the varmints. Then I lowers the price to $4— and $3—and $2, and arter about ten minutes of this hollerin' I gits the signal from Jim, and I pretends to git mighty mad, and I yells out:

"If nobody will buy this bob of me then I am goin' to turn him loose and let him find his way back to his torin' home in Blue Gum!"

"What I did took the crowd by surprise. I turned to the cage and tore out a couple of slats, and the cat cums out like a bullet. He clawed my cap off as he cums and then bit the ole mule on his way to the ground, and a fend was let loose in Mud Flats."

"He looks up that votin' line in thirty seconds and he drove men inter stores and shops and houses. Lard, but he was a fury! He was as mad as six bars rolled inter one."

"It was when the cat started fur home that Ole Jim appeared with his men and formed a solid line befo' the polls. They kept that line all day in spite of many foms, and when the closin' hour came they had the count seat by 150 majority. And when I got home and showed the ole woman the money and told her we could live a life of luxury fur the rest of our lives she jest up and fainted away."
